ERRESHOFF AT THE HELM.

-Day's Contest for a Prize of $400, Not the Royal St. George's Cup.

(B - Associated Press.) ROYAL ST. GEORGE'S YACHT CLUB. ingstown, Dublin Bay, July 20.-The nerican sloop Vigilant and the British sutter Britannia locked horns again toay in their ninth aquatic battle, the scord this morning standing at 7 to 1. Shortly after daybreak, this morning, steady streams of people began to pour into Kingstown from Dublin and other laces, until Bray Head, Killiney Hill nd other such spots were black with lumanity. They came by rail, by road ad by water, on foot and in carriage, inyachts and in excursion steamers, in olefashioned paddle-wheel tugs and in antquated sailing craft; in fishingsmacks and in luggers, from all points the same city his morning.

The race today was for a prize of $400, offered by the Royal St. George' Yacht Club, an not for the St. George's Cup, as previously announced. A Priiminary Spin.

The course was quadrangular, and from the secon, or east pier, of Kingstown, County Vicklow, to and around the Rosebeg hoy, marking the Rosebeg Banks, of the Point of Howth, County Dublin thence out to sea and around the Kin Lightship; from there around the Kin Lightship; from there back towards land and around the Muglins Rocksoff Bray Head, and from there back to he starting point; this course to be saied over three times, in order to compile the fifty miles.

Vigitant left er moorings at 9 o'clock and went for ; cruise outside the harbor in order t test the wind and get her sails in god drawing condition.

The piers and sea front by that time were packed with people, who gave the American yach a hearty cheer as she slipped through the water on her way to sea Nat Hereshoff was sailing Vigitant, and he was at her wheel throughout the day's acing.

The breeze at that time was southwest and soft frithning also ran out to sea shortly site Vigitant. Both yachts had their acyarders up and also heisted jib-topalis for a run towards losebeg buy, in the preliminary manoeuvres, in order to catch the line. The first morenents of the two yachts, owing to the light wind, were slow.

Britania First Away.

Eventually the spinnaker-booms were got ready to pert and the two racers headed for the line. Britannia crossed the line two mutes after the gun was fired from the figship and Vigilant followed immediaely afterwards in her wake. Britarnia handled her spinnaker was been also b

The yachts reahed down to the Muglins speedily, bot having their big jib-topsalls set. The wind, however, softened and headedthem as they neared the Muglins. Vigiant was then gaining on Britannia, analyt the third mark, the Muglins Rocks, of the first round, had cut down Britannia's lead considerably.
The racers leftthe Muglins in close company, with sinakers to port. The contest, on the ri home, on the first round, was most xidting, and aroused the greatest enthusam ashore. Every movement of theyachts was eagerly watched by the spitaores. Vigilant was close in Britannia vake, spilling her wind and trying or her opponent's weather. The ill-luck which is a festure of yacht racing in British waters apparently, was pretty evenly divided. The rain squall off the Muglins in the second round, was the only case in which Vigilani labored distinctly under a greater disadvantage than Britannia. Nearing those rocks off Bray Head, the rainy mist hid the mark boat, and Vigilant was carried away past it before the mist cleared away. But when she finally turned the mark Britannia was looked upon as certain to win, and the only interest remaining in the contest was centred in the times the boats would pass the winning mark.

GOOD RACE FOR FIN KEELS. Much Interest in the Shelter Island

Special Regatta.

(Special to The Evening World.) SHELTER ISLAND, N. Y., July 20.-The second special regatta of the Shelter Yacht Club will be of great interest from the fact that all the new fin keels have entered and are here and in a condition fit for racing. Wild Cat is the last one to arrive. Mr. Chaz. Olmatead is the owner, designer and builder, and is very hopeful of his new boat. Commodore R. B. Lynch has as yet had no fair chance to show the mettle of his Lynx, and the Consternation has been waiting until this week before she ventured in a race. All these three new fin keels will try to beat the Dilemma. They are only 5s-footers, but they are regular racing shells, and prettier sailing craft could hardly be conceived. The Eidolon, Mr. Howard Crosby's new fin keel, is a larger boat, has already won races this season along the Connecticut coast and will be pitted against the Tigress, the winner of the Larchmont Fourth of July races. There is also much speculation regarding the other classes of boats, and an interesting regatta is expected. The race will come off on Saturday at 1.30 P. M. The same course will be sailed as in the first special regatts. interest from the fact that all the new

BASEBALL CHAT.

There is but one catcher, and his name is Charley Farrell! If there is any sec-tion of the district bordering on the Harlem River that Mr. Farrell particularly desires, it is his right now. Even smacks and in luggers, from all points his own glorious batting record is of he compass they came. Crowds eclipsed, wiped out, cast into everlasting cam from Lyerpool last night, and a forgetfulness, by his magnificent perspechl steame brought many more from formance of yesterday. That home run swipe will live for a long time in the recollection of Polo Ground cranks, and many will tell and retell the story of Farrell saved the day by chasing four runs across the plate with the very hit that the Senators expected him to dole out. Seven to three was the tally dole out. Seven to three was the tally in Washington's favor, when Farrell came to bat in the fifth inning. The bases were full and Ward and Hassamer figured on an easy catch of a line ball towards right field. The hit went there, but over the heads of both, far under the scoreboard. Charley was suffused in blushes when his fellows grabbed him bodily and carried him to the bench. Davis and Tiernan also added their quota to the number of hits that counted.

Brooklyn-poor, bedraggled Brooklyn, whose Grooms started West with all the promise of a glorious harvest-home upon their return, resumes play to-day in mutilated condition. Capt. Foutz can't see his left shoulder, owing to a cord in his neck which keeps his face from turning in that direction; Mike Griffin is nursing a split finger; Kennedy has lost his staying qualities, and the crushing defeats recently received are anything but inspiriting. But still, they rose in their desperation and smote Baltimore, hip and thigh, yesterday, so who can tell what will become of the Phillies to-day?

President Byrne has announced that to-day will be a special "ladies day" at Eastern Park, in place of the usual Thursday game.

The protested game of April 25, between Philadelphia and Brooklyn, will be played on Monday afternoon at Eastern Park. This will not interfere with the regular scheduled game, and both will be played that afternoon.

One of these points is that the Claie course is entirely unsuited for rading craft of Vigitant's size. On this subject Mate Haff says plainty that the course is a "good one for Fire Island cathous, but a very bad one for Sefooters." The bad trim of the boat is blamed for the loss of the second race, due to taking on board two tons of lead at the suggestion of Nat Herreshoff. Vigitant's sais were also in poor condition, but hive now been altered, and better results may be expected. Mate Haff pays high tribute to Britannia's qualities, and says she is undoubtedly faster than was Valkyrie. Capt. Haff's son, Clayton, who has been Brooklyn, this morning dismissed a writ of habeas corpus and awarded the custody of two-year-old Russell Norris to his mother. Mrs. Sarah L. Norris, of Poplar street, secured the writ to get possession of his boy.

He claimed that his wife deserted him on July 27, 1884, taking the child with her. In her answer, Mrs. Norris says that Nerts treated her so cruelly that she could not live with him. She claims that Norris always carried a razor or a revolver, and frequently threatened to shoot her or cut her throat.

She says that Norris is the daughter of John E. Lewis, proprietor of the Lewis House, in Washington street, Brooklyn.
